Not a dry eye in the house after love's curtain comes down

Listen and you'll hear the sound, hear the sound of a heart breaking

I can still see you standin' there, midnight wind blowin' through your hair

Remember kisses sweet in the salty air, when love was forever

Turn the page and we fade to blue

Scene has changed now I'm without you

Well you just walked away when the act was through

And the dream was over

It was almost like a movie - the way you said goodbye

You must have spent a lot of time rehearsing each and every line

Now there's not a dry eye in the house, after love's curtain comes down

Listen and you'll hear the sound, hear the sound of a heart breaking -

Not a smile left on my face, the ending's just too sad to take

And there's not a dry eye, not a dry eye in the house

The greatest story was you and me, had it all we had everything

But now the story's done, it's just history, the last act is over

Your every line had the sweetest sound

Your every touch turned my world around

But then the light came up and my world crashed down

End of show - it's over

It was almost like a movie, those nights we touched the stars

Time stood still for you and I

Now it's sad enough to make you cry

And there's not a dry eye in the house, after love's curtain comes down

Listen and you'll hear the sound, hear the sound of a heart breaking -

And there's not a dry eye, not a dry eye in the house

Act One: The story's just begun

Act Two: I fell in love with you

Act Three: Knew it was meant to be

Act Four: You don't love me no more

And there's not a dry eye in the house, after love's curtain comes down

Listen and you'll hear the sound, hear the sound of a heart breaking -

And there's not a dry eye, not a dry eye

Not a dry eye in the house, after love's curtain comes down

Listen and you'll hear the sound, hear the sound of a heart breaking -

breaking

Not a dry eye in the house
