(McNabb)

Armadillo skin and the leafy green,
Our minds are where we keep her,
The ideals born of the western world,
Were always buried deeper,
When at the end of the working day,
We imitate the mountains,
Riding high on a wanderlust,
To question what we came for...

Chorus: You know we're living for your love,
You know we're living for you,
Come out of the dark elusive one,
Hear your subjects who call you,
You know we're living for your love,
You know we're living for you,
Come out of the dark, be sure of this,
Nirvana we adore you.

Burned and dry our sights are high,
Forever young with wonder,
With our bare hands, built an empire there,
To sacrifice and plunder,

Repeat Chorus
