You have to know
Where you're going
Before you say "good-bye"
You have to know
What you're asking
Before you ask "why?"

And I think to myself
Wonderful way
My world revolves just a different way
And I think for a while Reflecting a smile
If changes are coming
I gotta say

You have to know
Where you're going
Before you say "good-bye"
You have to know
What you're asking
Before you ask "why?"

Love, love
Children of Rock 'n' Roll
Love, love
Raised on Rock 'n' Roll

I remember all the words of Love that we sang out of tune
Waving good-bye to a generation
As we danced
By the light of the moon
I remember oh so clear
How the world
Looked from Blueberry Hill
When you sang all the songs
On a six-string guitar
And it made you a Rock 'n' Roll Star

You have to know
Where you're going
Before you say "good-bye"
You have to know
What you're asking
Before you ask "why?"

You have to know
Where you're going
Before you say "good-bye"
You have to know
What you're asking
Before you ask "why?"

Children of Rock 'n' Roll
Raised on Rock 'n' Roll
Children of Rock 'n' Roll
We played Elysian Park
Until the night was dark
Children of Rock 'n' Roll
We traveled eight miles high
We never saw the sky
Children of Rock 'n' Roll
We had a "Beautiful Day"
When an island gave way to the
Children of Rock 'n' Roll
And in the "Garden of Dreams"
We found out what it means To be the
Children of Rock 'n' Roll

Raised on rockin', raised on rockin', raised on rockin' ways
Raised on rockin', raised on rockin', raised in rockin' days
(Repeat and fade)
