na na na...

sometimes things seem totally wiped out i bite my lip and clench my fist so tight that i cant even feel it my pulse is ready to explode but why should i keep it under control why should i just let it be you see your startin to piss me off so get the fuck away from me just give me a reason your pushin me too far cuz all i ever wanna do is to sit alone and sing my song it goes na na na...

its what i do to keep the tension down even tho it might seem a little gay i dont care it calms me down and sometimes i would make it through the day ya say u gotta be crazy but how can u be sure if u never tried its not about communication its about what i know is right you'll never understand it your narrow mind cant see but if u feel there's no way out then sing along just sing along with me na na na...
