In this case I'd say it's nothing really tragic
If I don't go to dinner, just go you Splitting is nothing really tragic, I'd say Oh oh...do you hear me... oh oh... do you hear me...
When you come home I'll not be there to annoy you When I'll catch the train you're not going to deafen me on the phone

Oh oh...it's no use doing as if nothing had happened
Oh oh... talking to a wall'd be more exciting
I had never died in an airport's toilet
Recalling him while he kissed you...well ok
Oh oh...don't cry I don't want to treat you ill Oh oh...I'm talking to you don't give me such a look of dislike
How funny I've died in an airport's toilet
Where? At the airport...
Where? At the airport...

You tell meÂ...
"In this case I'd say so: you know what you can do with your excuses "
but come on come on love don't speak like thatÂ... ehmÂ...
excuse me I didn't mean to, so let's stay friends
When I'll go walking with my dog you can join me no come on stop screaming you're making everything much harder

Oh oh...it's no use doing as if nothing had happened
Oh oh...talking to a wall'd be more exciting
I had never died in an airport's toilet
Recalling him while he kissed you...well ok
Oh oh...don't cry I don't want to treat you ill
Oh oh...I'm talking to you don't give me such a look of
dislike
How funny I've died in an airport's toilet
Where? At the airport...
Where? At the airport...

What you still haven't grasped I'm afraid you'll never realize

So, love, I'd assign this guilt
Some to me, some to you

Look how the sky gets his colour back
Now that we're no longer together
Countdown of a love
Three two one party!

Oh oh...it's no use doing as if nothing had happened
Oh oh...talking to a wall'd be more exciting
I had never died in an airport's toilet
Recalling him while he kissed you...well ok
Oh oh...don't cry I don't want to treat you ill
Oh oh...I'm talking to you don't give me such a look of
dislike
How funny I've died in an airport's toilet
Where? At the airport...
Where? At the airport...
