Sometimes, even now, I think about you
And all of the things I can't do without you
We meant almost everything to each other
But you felt the need to go find another
I thought you and I were right together
We would be forever true
You were so much more than love to me
And I was just a toy to you
The way it used to be
Back when you still loved me
Our love was just a game
How could you leave me this way?
The way it used to be
When all you had was me
Now all of that has changed
How could you treat me this way?
Now I find it very hard to continue
A part of myself was locked up within you
I could never think about tomorrow
And now i find it brings so much sorrow
I thought you and i were right together
We would be forever true
You were so much more than love to me
And i was just a toy to you
The way it used to be
Back when you still loved me
Our love was just a game
How could you leave me this way?
The way it used to be
When all you had was me
Now all of that has change
How could you treat me this way?
