This love it is a distant star,
Guiding us home wherever we are.
This love it is a burning sun,
Shining a light on the things that we've done.

I tried to speak to you every day,
But each word we spoke the wind blew away.

Could these walls come crumbling down?
I want to feel my feet on the ground,
And leave behind this prison we share.
Step into the open air.

How did we let it come to this?
What we've just tasted we somehow still miss.
How will it feel when this day is done?
And can we keep what we've only begun?

And now these walls come crumbling down,
And I can feel my feet on the ground.
Can we carry this love that we share?
Into the open air
Into the open air
(Into the open air)
Into the open air.

This love it is a burning sun.
