My Dearest,

I've missed you very very much since that last night we were together, and will hold that night especially in my memories for years to come. I've been turning it over and over in my mind lately.

I've read your letter through atleast four times, and will probobly read it more times before I am through.

I've been sitting here, looking at your picture, and getting more home-sick every minute.

I've wanted that picture more than anything else I know of, except of course, you yourself. I keep thinking of you darling, I keep wishing I could be home with you. I want to leave in the worst possible way so I can come home to see you but, things don't look so good on that subject.

This war has spoiled a lot of things for everyone I guess. I've never been so lonesome in my life as I am right now. Im completely lost without you darling. I never realized I could miss any one person so much. I just hope it wont be too much longer until Im able to be with you again, and live a sane and normal life.
