"Better to Know"

I saw my revolution sold to a priest
I saw the men of reason bow down to the east

And oh, it's better to know
Oh, it's better to know.

The truth can make you bitter
Even while it sets you free
The truth's a haunting daunting mistress
She ain't been good to me

And oh, it's better to know
Oh, it's better to know.

Despite all the fools and liars
Despite all of the wars
The pursuit of liberty is
Still a noble cause

And oh, it's better to know
Oh, I swear it's better to know.

All the forces of distortion
All the pretty words you said
The elephant in your living room
The fascist in your bed

And oh, it's better to know
Oh, I swear it's better to know.
Even though we're so alone
For so long
We've been so alone
For so long
