Come back for another day with me
Come back, you'll never want to leave
Just give it all up, just take a knee
And you'll see

The pictures on the wall don't look the same
On the outside, the snow is turned to rain
You're packing up everything we have
You said you might be back

You'll never go right if you're always wrong
You'll take it with a grain of whatever comes along
Well, you're leaving on my favorite season
I just hope you have your reasons

The cold is gone, the grass is turning green
Did you find out what's there is what you need?
Get back, get back to where you belong
Just like you were never gone

You'll never go right if you're always wrong
You'll take it with a grain of whatever comes along
Well, you're leaving on my favorite season
I just hope you have your reasons

A reason to pretend, a reason it won't end
That's what I keep holding on to A reason you'll get tired, remember what we had A reason to come back

You'll never go right if you're always wrong
You'll take it with a grain of whatever comes along

You'll never go right if you're always wrong (Come back for another day with me)
You'll take it with a grain of whatever comes along
(Come back for another day)
Well, you're leaving on my favorite season
I just hope you have your reasons
