One more time he says good night
Turns out the door and off the light
Cursing low as if she didn't know

One more time he'd comfort her
As if a word could break through her
She's so quiet and he's so sick of it

Too long, too late this time
Too far, too great in my mind

One more time a run around
Nothing meant by anyone
Fine with them, such a quite din

Says he wants to leave a while
She just sits and tries to smile
That's okay, it was boring anyway

Too long, too late this time
Too far, too great in my mind

Says she needs a worshiper
Someone who'll do anything at all for her
Wishful thinker

He don't need this schizo bull
Each one misses by so far
They don't see it come, but who ever does

Too long, too late this time
Too far, too great in my mind
Too long, too late this time
Too far, too great in my mind
