Try to walk away and trip because I'm falling.
But who's the one who left you there?
Now and then I think I'll catch you.
I'll never catch you, never catch you before.

Why need him when you say that you need him now?
Through a cocaine nose
I suffocate did the way the one that's left
about him about him
Listen to what I'm saying to you Listen because I won't back down I won't back down
I suffocate did the way the one that's left
about him about him

If this dream is dead then I'm dead
Dreaming
This dream is over
