I found out today that you went on a little trip
Somewhere you don't belong
One of your friends made just a little slip
So I'm taking a little trip of my own

And I'm gonna to meet you
I'm gonna greet you
At her back door is you're coming out
Oh, why this now?

'Cause I used to have angels they used to watch over
me
But love was not a stranger but love ain't what it used to be
And I don't want these devils they're knocking at my door
So, I can't love you no more, no more, no more, yeah
No more, no more, no more, no more

You might have thought that I would be little bit lazy
I might not notice, I might not care
Oh, but now you're finding out that I'm a little bit crazy
And you were the one so unaware

So I'm gonna meet you
I'm gonna greet you
At her back door is you're coming out
Oh, why this now?

'Cause I used to have angels they used to watch over
me
But love was not a stranger but love ain't what it used
to be
And I don't want these devils they're knocking at my
door
So, I can't love you no more, no more, no more

So I'm gonna walk on, walk on, walk on Keep my feet moving on Walk on, walk on, walk on
Keep my feet moving on

Walk on, walk on, walk on
Keep my feet moving on Walk on, walk on

'Cause I used to have angels they used to watch over
me
Love was not a stranger but love ain't what it used to be
And I don't want these devils they're knocking at my
door
So, I can't love you no more, no more, no more

I'm gonna let you go (Yes I'm gonna let you go)
I won't take it, I won't take it no more Do you hear what I'm saying, do you hear what I'm saying
Don't think you can come back and change my mind
Don't think you can come back and take it all back
