[G-Clef Da Mad Komposa] Everybody think they know the truth Making crazy claims but never having any real proof This the third planet from the solar My dawg joined a cult, doc telling me he's bipolar AL 6006, they still in darkness Rappers making more and more cream, they still sparkless I can't feel you, you can't see me Regardless, I'm the blade of grass cracking up ya muthafuckin' sidewalk Behold, how good and how pleasant Melchizedek showing you scenes like the Ghost of Christmas Present Youse a liar, you ain't controlling shit, we all broke I represent New York, home of the 9/11 asbestos smoke My little brother on the corner watched our pillars fall down And like so many others heard and felt a loud explosive sound This is my father's world and to my listening ears Lost Secret sings the music of the spheres [Chorus 2X: Allah Real] Now here we go again It doesn't mater if you're a friend Stand strong and don't bend The world is coming to an end These wounds don't mend It only turns boys into men Now here we go again [Archangel Metatron] I and I, means you and I, are eye to eye But some eyes are blind, confined Within the walls of the color that they skin, shine Thin line, between those who spit facts, and those who been lying I been trying, to over-stand But I think history got us locked in it's future plans So we shoot, stab, loot, grab Righteousness is banned as a law of the land Damn, humanity is such a beautiful race But we dying over God, greed and the features on our face Wait, do I control destiny or does destiny control my fate Because when those towers fell, I almost lost my father It's like life is written by some mysterious author But na, na, I gotta grab a hold of it I'm the master of my Temple, have to have control of it So don't ya'll dare knock me off my orbit Ya'll get run down, fucking with Caution The world is all ours, so that means the world is mine I'm trying to make shit right in the wrong place and the wrong time [Chorus]
