I've been away
I've seen the sun at dawn on the ocean I've seen the moon look like a plate so high in a cloudless sky
I've tasted things straight from your dreams so sweet I've seen a face to break your heart in two 'cause it ain't loving you and I have been right to the snow, don't seem so white, no

and I have been right to the sun, don't seem so bright but I am sold
on this feeling inside my heart I am sold
on being inside your arms am I not your rock
am I not your roll
am I not your soul

I've cried out on a mountain and heard my reply I've dived down into the ocean so deep that there is no light I've heard a song that raised the goosebumps on my skin
I've done things, I've had dreams, so many dreams and I have been right to the snow, don't seem so white,

no
and I have been right to the sun, don't seem so bright
but I am sold
on this feeling inside my heart
on being inside your arms
am I not your rock
am I not your roll
am I not your soul
