Though I can't come to see you every day
It just happened things worked out this way Oh, but that don't mean you're not the apple of your daddy's eye
And as long as there's a Sunday I'll come by.

As long as there's a Sunday your daddy's here
Though I think about and love you all the time
And even though, dear, some have said I have no right to you
As long as there's a Sunday you'll be mine.

And someday, dear, I hope you'll understand
That I come by as often as I can So you'll be good and mind your mom and tell her I said hi
And as long as there's a Sunday I'll come by.

Yes, as long as there's a Sunday I'll come by...
