(Justin Tubb)

It's nice to know a true love for a change
To know you really love me seems so strange
To kiss your lips and know they're only mine
I've kissed so many of the other kind.

It's sure feels good to love someone like you
And not have to wonder when you make me blue
I wanna hold you near me all the time
I've held so many of the other kind.

My heart's not used to love someone like you
It's gotta lotta catching up to do
True love sure is very hard to find
'Cause there's so many of the other kind.

Yes, there's so many of the other kind...
