

Louda Pants

"For Alex"

Visit "For Alex" on MotoLyrics.com

What has your life come to
When all you know is what you've thrown away
What has this life come to
When you can't bear to live another day

You see your own reflection
Cringe, and turn away
Because he was the only person
Who knew underneath what lay

Your head is swamped with lies
Distorted by the memories
The helpless, lonely cries

You can't fight your own skin forever
You'll have to face up to it one day
Hiding the truth behind makeup
You're crumbling, fading away

You're jealous of the world
Every second your minds runs over
Everything you've ever heard
About the face you wish was yours...

Visit Louda Pants page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.