You looked so beautiful this morning
With your head resting on my chest
I watch you smiling in your sleep
You look so good with your hair in a mess
As the sun seeps through this window
As to the shadows on my nose
I love feeling you breathe when I'm holding you close

Please don't let go
Please don't let go

You looked so beautiful this morning
With the sun shining on your face
I stare into your blue-green eyes
It's such a sight that it blows me away
I wish we could stay here forever
Lock the door so no one knows
I love feeling you breathe when I'm holding you close

Please don't let go
Please don't let go

Under covers feel you next to me
You're so close I feel your heart beating
All these moments mean so much to me
I love feeling you breathe when I'm holding you close
I love feeling you breathe please don't ever let go
