

JV All*Stars, The

"Wolf In Sheep's Clothing"

Visit "Wolf In Sheep's Clothing" on MotoLyrics.com

Guess that it must have been easy for you
To let me go
Because you never saw what I brought you back
From New Mexico

Sure this week apart gave you time
To choose your words more wisely
So this don't seem like a crime

You're taking your time
You always said patience was a virtue
Well, don't waste your breath
Don't waste your breath, this second's on me

You know I already know
Just how this final call will go

There'll be no straight answers
You'll be lying through your teeth
And you're making this one easier than I think it should be, oh
I knew it
Now I got a hundred thousand other things to comfort me, oh

I'm sorry I missed your birthday yesterday
Just so you know
It's tough for me to remember those dates when trying to let you go
I'm sorry that I didn't call you
I didn't want to find out you're doing just fine without me

I'm failing the test
Can't seem to keep you out of my mind
I'd rather be dead, I'd rather you were taking the fall

You know I already know
Just how this final call will go

