A lasting image of you locked inside my heart
My favorite picture of us still sits in its silver frame
From that night at the park when your shirt
Matched your blue eyes
We always had so much fun

I still think of you (I wonder)
And I wonder do you think of me?
Do you regret the choice you made?
Will this hurt ever go away?

I don't want to forget
I just want to be over you
I just want to move on, so one day maybe
I can take the picture out of its silver frame
Put it in the old shoebox where it belongs

I still think of you (I wonder)
And I wonder do you think of me?
Do you regret the choice you made?
Will this hurt ever go away?

I still think of you (I wonder)
And I wonder do you think of me?
Do you regret the choice you made?
Will this hurt ever go away?
