Yesterday, I just saw the one you left behind, yesterday
I could tell that he was hurting for you Sad, but he can't deny it, there was nothing else he could do
He was one of the many struck by it

Hurting for you, finish before it started
'Cause the last of the broken-hearted is hurting for you

Day to day, that's how you should learn to live your life, day to day
Put aside those dreams that keep hurting for you Don't let the pain remind you, there is nothing else you can do
Better not ever let the day find you

Hurting for you, finish before it started
'Cause the last of the broken-hearted is hurting for you

Sympathy, I don't want to sound like what I feel Seems like pity at all
Destiny, but in the great design of life
We are all so pitifully small, hey

Hurting for you
Sad, but I can't deny it, there was nothing else I could do
I was one of the many struck by it

Hurting for you
Don't let the pain remind you, there is nothing else that you can do
Better not ever let the day find you

Hurting for you, finish before it started
'Cause the last of the broken-hearted is hurting for you
