They say you know your way around
They say you are a man of the world
You say she is a new kid in town
You think she's just another girl

You get suspicious that something is wrong
No explanation why it lasts so long
And by the look on your face, everybody knows
You can't deny that you feel exposed

You can feel the heat when the night is gone
You been burnt by the midnight sun
When you look for relief but you can't find none
You been burnt by the midnight sun

Like a train running down the track
It's too late, things are out of control
There's no way she can take you back
There's no release for the brand on your soul

You never noticed the touch of her hand
You messed around with things
You don't understand
Now you sit in darkness while a new day dies
Her face is shining when you close your eyes

When you feel the heat when the light is gone
You been burnt by the midnight sun
When you look for relief but you can't find none
You been burnt by the midnight sun

I know the feeling, you wish you'd been warned
Now you and I are brothers in arms
'cause I know the pain 'cause I know her kind
One left a feeling burning in my mind

And you feel the heat when the night is gone
I been burnt by the midnight sun
And I look for relief but I can't find none
I been burnt by the midnight sun

I can feel the heat when the light is gone

I been burnt by the midnight sun
And I look for relief but I can't find none
I been burnt by the midnight sun
