

Todd Rundgren "No World Order"

Visit "No World Order" on MotoLyrics.com

Let me tell you 'bout the new world order
Not the kind to make you run for the border
It's a new religion wrapped in a revolution
With a proven solution for your mental pollution

Don't let no one tell you that god ain't got a sense of humor
Someone said he's pissed off, but that was just a rumor
I know he's laughin' when the preacher starts to scream about How trippin' is evil, and sex is unclean

Cars and gold bars and chains and diamond rings
These are the symbols, we want the real things Peace in the soul and a natural insight Things that please the mind and make the body feel right

Nature wants your life to go on long and on strong
To have children and show them where you went wrong
So if your life style leads you into hell or into prison
Wake up and listen, this is what you're missing

Free will, we can't seem to get our fill We are beggers, we are choosers drunk on a lack of power
I believe in understanding, I've got to know where we're landing
I'm takin' my survey now, hands up if you're with me
Do you want different choices? Can't hear the quiet voices
Got to dim all the lights, turn down the volume Put on a little more forgiveness, who's gonna be my witness?
If we must endure this trial, someone is bound to touch us

Do you want more sex, more comforting
A little more foreplay and afterglow, let my people go Everybody wants peace on the earth, children sheltering

Calling every man, every woman
We're gonna take control of our own bodies

Peace breaks out in the battle of the sexes We start to learn what the other one expects is We stay away from what the other one rejects is
And have respect for individual perspectives

We're gonna break out of this cycle of dependency And liberate each other from a hopeless life of drudgery
And face up to the truth as we dispel all of this secrecy
And simplify the situation when we learn to speak plainly

We're gonna take control of the machinery Bad little actors that chew up the scenery Job number one is gonna be findin' a way
That we can rave all night and meditate all day

Mankind's strugglin' hard to see the light
To hear the voice of the spirit in the night
To lay down his heavy burden and pick up his soul
power
And build a heaven on earth hour by hour by hour

Child protection, more careful mate selection Everyone wants to be wanted by a natural father and mother
Lookin' for a sense of wonder, don't let your faith go under
This is a beautiful world, if we could only give up fighting
The answer is surrender, every race, every gender Beat our swords into plowshares on the anvil of a pure heart
We gotta have honest answers and the courage to take our chances Opporunity's knockin' loud, give me your attention

Visit Todd Rundgren page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.