"Slave Girl"

when the rain comes down, don't cry
'cause I'll keep you dry when the wind blows, don't sigh
'cause our love won't die down from Louisiana, playin' in a band she moved to Hollywood, bottle in her hand wears a black bandana, blood red tattoo I know she's wrong but I'm a bad guy too she's a gang back slave girl, I'll be your homeboy

she's a gang back slave girl, I'll be your homeboy
gang bang slave girl, gang bang slave girl daisy growing side of the road forty-five smith and wesson, cock and load you better run, better pay your rent 'cause every shell she shoots counts for money never spent

she's a gang back slave girl, I'll be your homeboy
she's a gang back slave girl, I'll be your homeboy
gang bang slave girl, gang bang slave girl and on our anniversary we'll cruise the barrio I'll hear your favorite song on the radio

when the wind blows, don't sigh
