Eyes ahead,
There's no use looking back.
In retrospect, it's all clear now, twenty/twenty.
What lies ahead?
It's your path, up to you to plot it well.
Take some chances, fifty/fifty.
You gotta make yourself do something,
Instead of falling back on familiarity.

You said yourself
That this would be the last time
That you spent
Alone, hoping things would happen.
Is it someone else's responsibility to pick you up?
Stop dreaming. Start being.
You gotta make yourself do something,
Instead of falling back on familiarity.

[Chorus]
You said you want it,
So take it, yeah take it.
Take it for granted.
You hate it, so break it.

Apatheticity breaks down to loneliness,
When everything that surrounds you is empty.
But every time you're faced with opportunity,
You look away, you shy away, you turn away.

You have this bad habit. [4x]

[Chorus]

You have this bad habit, so break it. [4x]
