Ideals are like opinions and beliefs just like tradition

Sometimes both are not enough

Faded stickers and crumpled flyers They've become the reminder that there's an anthem in us that fits the flag we've flown for years

I've always had this same old song

Stuck in my head for so damn long

A soundtrack to whether I'm right or wrong

Ideals are like opinions beliefs just like tradition

Sometimes both are not enough

faded pictures and yellowed flyers and memories so far behind us there's an anthem in us that fits

the flag we've flown for years

Ideals and its actions

Beliefs and convictions

Faith and tradition

The flags we've flown for years
