You want what I've got
If you think that it is worth it even though you don't deserve it let go of what you got, cuz it's not taking care of what you need so let me make all that you're dreaming come true and take you home tonight you know it's wrong but I'll make it right

I fed you all the right lines with the right lies
You gotta know I only make this offer one time
One step forward and take two steps back
The only way we can discover all we know about each other
If we take our time and let it happen tonight

So put your best foot forward
Wear your Sunday's best
To see that these things never turn out right

What I hate, I've become
All I would never happen
Found myself having bad habits
Too late to break, to right wrongs
All the pain I caused for nothing
Just to feel like I was something
Is true to form and nothing more You're getting what you bargained for
I said

I fed you all the right lines with the right lies
You gotta know I only this offer one time
One step forward and take two steps back
Everywhere we can discover all we know about each other
If we take our time and let it happen tonight

So put your best foot forward
Wear your Sunday's best

To see that these things never turn out right

All around the world hear people screamin'
Makin' love, fakin' like their feeling
But I've learned that the best way to dance
Is to take it one step at a time

All around the world hear people screamin'
Makin' love, fakin' like their feeling
But I've learned that the best way to dance
Is to take it one step (one step)

One step forward and take two steps back
The only way we can discover all we know about each other
If we take our time and let it happen tonight

So put your best foot forward
Wear your Sunday's best
To see that these things never turn out right

You're calling me I'm calling her
It makes no difference you're a beautiful girl
I said you're calling me I'm calling her
It makes no difference that you're beautiful
Ooh-ooh
You're calling me I'm calling her
It makes no difference you're a beautiful girl
I said you're calling me I'm calling her
It makes no difference you're a beautiful girl
