Give you everything that you deserve
I'd give you all you need
If I had it all to give.

And I'd protect you when you fall, if only that was all that you need.
But I need to tell you, that you know how beautiful you are
Keep you from the dangers in the dark
Don't you know, let it go, take a deep breath

And you know that you're beautiful
And that's the truth, have I told you that much lately?
When the voices get in your head, you're worried about all that's said
Then you give it all again and again
Then you wonder why you're misunderstood
When you give it all sometimes I wish you would hold a little back
Don't let them at you, take a deep breath

That's what I said, then you lay awake and wonder how it is
You can't take apart everything you did
You know it's true, I'm head over heels
Take a deep breath
That's what I said
Take a deep breath
It's not like old days
