She's got her reasons, yeah, she's got her pride
Though she's beaten black and blue
One fine day she'll be walking outside
She'll turn to see what is true

Won't draw no curtains, be hiding no way
On that victory day

She's stuck it out, yeah, she's hung in tough
She won't be running away
He says it will change out but each time it does
It starts up all over again

He wants the thunder, the crashing of waves
The guts, the glory of victory parades
She says it just never happens that way
On that victory day

Victory day, yeah, victory day
There's no rockets flaring, there's no loud display
If you walk with me we'll get there someday
On that victory day

In the sun, walk by the water, yeah
In the sun

She says life isn't big, no, it's kind of small
Made of small moments, they're all strung together
If you don't look out, you might miss them all
Then it's just passed you on by like the weather

He wants that thunder and crashing of waves
The guts, the glory of victory parades
She says I'll give you much more than you'll take
On that victory day

Victory day, yeah, victory day
There's no rockets flaring, there's no loud display
If you walk with me we'll get there someday
On that victory day, on that victory day

And he's gotten so close and he won't let it fade

And the reasons still haunt you for the mistakes you made
She says let it go, 'cause it's time for a change
But he's still a little boy trapped between pages

Time to walk away from him
She said, "I'll take you some place
Where I know it will change"

Victory day, yeah, victory day
There's no rockets flaring, there's no loud display
If you walk with me we'll get there someday
On that victory day

Victory day, yeah, victory day
There's no rockets flaring, there's no loud display
If you walk with me we'll get there someday
On that victory day, on that victory day, on that victory day

In the sun, walk by the water, yeah
In the sun, walk by the water, yeah
In the sun, walk by the water, yeah
In the sun, walk by the water, yeah
In the sun
