You and I
Are driving down the highway
Late tonight
The stereo is loud
And I am staring out my window

Please don't look back
We are on the run
And they're calling out
It's only just begun

You wondered where we are
And wondered where we're gone
Trying to figure out who we are
And no one knows
They wondered where we are
The road it seems goes forever
Forever's not too far

Here we stand together
Hand in hand our eyes connected

They sing their song sweet melodies
Swearing that was me
It's only me

Please don't look back
We are all alone
And they're calling out it's
It's just begun

You wondered where we are
And wondered where we're gone
Trying to figure out who we are
And no one knows
They wondered where we are
The road it seems goes forever
Forever's not too far

You wondered where we are
And wondered where we're gone

Trying to figure out who we are
And no one knows
They wondered where we are
The road it seems goes forever
Forever's not too far
