Don't kiss my lips and say goodbye, it makes me want you more
Anyway, I knew somebody like you once before
I know that love is waiting for you farther down the line
Candy in the window of my mind

You're candy in the window and I'm that ragged child
That came to town to stare into the window for awhile
I wish you every happiness you'll ever hope to find
Sweet candy in the window of my mind

Remember me for I'm the one who never will forget Now you know the way life is, you may decide you want me yet
Take care, sweetheart and keep in touch if you can spare the time
Candy in the window of my mind

You're candy in the window and I'm that ragged child
That came to town to stare into the window for awhile
I wish you every happiness you'll ever hope to find
Candy in the window of my mind

Sweet candy in the window of my mind
