

Tom T. Hall

"Intro to Song Eleven"

Visit "Intro to Song Eleven" on MotoLyrics.com

Intro to Song Eleven

Thank you aww thank you music lovers Well I'm always glad when people bring their children out to my shows
And I try never to embarrass them or confuse them Lord knows they're confused enough and I am too for that matter
But I love to sing this song I had a psychiatrist friend
Nat Winston
A good friend of mine who is a psychiatrist
And we talked about you get up in the morning And you make a list of all of your little troubles and the list is never as long as you might imagined it to be
And but you do you write down these little pet peeves Things you really don't care anything about like parsley you know
But I got up one morning and I thought well that's kind of a negative thing to do Write down things you don't like So I got up one morning and wrote down a list of all the things that really make me happy
And eh you my friends and country music fans are on that list
And so I'd like to sing this song for you

Visit Tom T. Hall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.