I've been searching several years
Still haven't found my enemies
This new land's been hiding its face so well
It's only temptation
So I'll find another way
I'll still hear what you came here to say
Just won't know what you want me to know 'cause the truth is so far
But the clues add up faster and faster
What's happened to all the temptation?
It's wasting away
When I'm closing my eyes it's wasting away

So don't trust whitey
Cause underneath disguises
A wolf's a wolf no matter where
Well all I know is I don't know
Agreement is lost in a heartbeat
And still whitey
Will come to you smiling
But underneath the cover
His heart is filled
With so much spite
Cause you and I are so different

Danger's lurking somewhere near
Don't know which friends are enemies
When they're on top, the talk is sweet
Just wait 'til the tables are turning
You'll see, what I've seen
The ones you've made your family
You never knew they had in them
To lie and deceive and they'll steal when you sleep
What's happened to all the temptation?
It's wasting away
When I'm closing my eyes it's wasting away
