Here tonight, a moment in the shining light
A chance to watch the twilight burn
For our loss, we'll take until they've paid the cost
And every man's as guilty as his kith and kin

All hands to the deck (Ho!)
We've found our war tonight
What's the order? Give no quarter! Hoay, hoay!
Heave the bones and black (Ho!)
The shores will burn tonight
And every man's as guilty as his kith and kin

Many nights, I have searched the oceans far and wide
And watched the serene waters churn
And now that I've been lead here by the raging tide
My eyes are only searching to watch it burn

All hands to the deck (Ho!)
We've found our war tonight
What's the order? Give no quarter! Hoay, hoay!
Heave the bones and black (Ho!)
The shores will burn tonight
And when the embers dim we'll sail again
