The dock is creaking loud tonight
Makes me wonder how they ever
Got away so many times
I don't know, doubt that I'll know
The dark is creeping out tonight
Watching over their clandestine
Journey tracing seven coasts tonight
Tonight they're not alone

The wind is howling eastward
Makes me wonder why I'm here
All aboard this brigantine
We'll take you to your fears
At last I'm man to man against
This nightmare I've been dreaming
But our redemption
Lies beyond seven coasts tonight

We shall venture out tonight
Lurking among shadows cast down
Black as seas can conjure up and I
I've disappeared tonight

The docks are creaking loud tonight
Makes me wonder how we ever
Got away so many times
I don't know, doubt that I'll know
The dark is creeping out tonight
Watching over our clandestine
Journey tracing seven coasts tonight
Tonight we're coming home
