"Through The Blazing Skies"

Visit "Through The Blazing Skies" on MotoLyrics.com

Yesterday, through the blazing skies I knew
I saw you watching me, crying and pleading
To end this vow
Yesterday, the smoke that blackened heaven's gates
Erased my name, and stained the earth
With ashes raining down
How long?

It can't erase this longing
Long ago once was a heart
I can't escape this hunger
Long ago consumed my heart

Never enough, I'm longing
Only for another chance
I can't escape this loathing
Longing to embrace the past
And so I ride again

Is there anybody going to live forever?
Please tell me I'm running out
Is there anybody going to love forever?
Please help me find my way down
