(Vladimir Cosma/Jeff Jordan)

You call it love, there are things I need to say
'Bout the way I feel, when your arms are all around me.
You call it love, words I heard that sound so fine
Meaningless each time, till you came and found me.

See, the ground is slowly turning dizzily, easily.
Feel the way my heart is burning secretly inside of me.

You call it love, all the wishes in my mind
Soared into the skies, where reflected in my own eyes.
You say it's love, variations on a theme.
Love was just a dream, memories of past sighs.

See, your love is always 'round me, everywhere, in the air.
New sensations now surround me, ocean wide deep inside.

(Clavier solo)

You call it love, all my days pass close to you.
Grey skies turn to blue and the sun shines all around me.
You call it love, it's a phrase that people say
Each and every day, real love's hard to find though.

See, the ground is slowly turning dizzily, easily.
Feel the way my heart is burning from your touch,
secretly.

You call it love, now I know it's so much more.
Being close to you makes this feeling new that you call love.
