

Tommy Dorsey "Indian Summer"

Visit "Indian Summer" on MotoLyrics.com

INDIAN SUMMER

Tommy Dorsey

- words by Al Dubin, Music by Victor Herbert

- written in 1919 as a piano piece subtitled "An American Idyll"

- lyrics added in 1939

Summer, you old Indian Summer

You're the tear that comes after June time's laughter

You see so many dreams that don't come true

Dreams we fashioned when Summertime was new

You are here to watch over

Some heart that is broken

By a word that somebody left unspoken

You're the ghost of a romance in June going astray

Fading too soon, that's why I say

"Farewell to you Indian Summer"

-----

Visit Tommy Dorsey page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.