[Muph] Hey yo, that block's where I used to cop a whole lot of neighbour's stares Looking at me like I'm lost, I was thinking "what?" What? You know that I live there, go back to your doorknobs and let me just walk on, polish this sauce off Could've been my hair or my jeans or the tear in my seams, or the where-are-my-feet? Or maybe, just maybe, I may have been way more entertaining than that daytime TV Believe me, I know I ain't cut clean Rough around the edges in that pair of faded old jeans cause they came pre-packed with the wallet and keys Ain't got a spare dollar for the washing machine See clanging in my pockets wasn't the sound of change but the sound of the bottle tops of yesterday It was the same today, go out and get some, get some Come home again just to get away Whatever they said, I wasn't listening Caribee backpack strapped in, carrying on tradition And you know what's inside that? It's going to be missing within a matter of minutes, they say it's bad for your business If you can't see straight, everything is badly written Assholes full of shit? Matter of opinion So, go ahead, show me your book of life I guarantee you too have got some crooked lines, right?

[Chorus: Candice Monique] Goodnight, goodbye gravity Let it go, let my mind flow free So goodnight, gravity goodbye I know you'll catch me in the morning but now it ain't important I don't need your shit, let me do my thing So goodnight, gravity goodbye Yeah-eah, yeah, yeah, yeah-eah [Muph] Yo, first sip, lips on a bottle of Spumante Never knew she could be so truly demanding I'm handed the answers in the form of a solution Liquid, the problems forgotten when I drink it But don't get it twisted though, I'm pro party life You ain't gotta ask why Just look to the laughs and the stars in our skies Now sometimes even a barfly can't master his high So I'ma say goodnight, goodbye to gravity Crooked flight academy flying throughout the galaxy Happily lost in my space Phone switched off cause I learnt from that play Drunk dials, they ain't smiles when you come to again The mess that we made, the who we called and the what we say All part of the performance we gave Can't recall getting home, but we all okay So it's okay [Chorus: Candice Monique] [Muph] I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma let my mind fly through that galaxy I know they'll be catching me in the morning but right now that ain't important to me, let it go I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma let my mind fly through

but right now that ain't important to me, let's go! I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma say my goodbye, goodnight Goodbye, goodnight, goodbye to gravity, huh I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma say my goodbye to gravity I'ma say my goodbye, goodnight Goodbye, goodnight, goodbye to gravity, huh
