Hey there love Hey There love [VERSE 1] Hello rhythm and blues How's hip-hop doing Lately some been sayin' she's in ruins Think she better off playin' with Afrobeat She's best when she manifests a style that's unique Wanna introduce her to the highlife MPC her hips let them swing right She's over quantized, obese with bass and 808s Wonder if she's gay or straight? She fell in love with soul real early James Brown beat breaks made her Grammy worthy Heard she handle her Biz Markie When she sing like Alicia she always on key She's hated on by disco Came on the scene and did a quick overthrow She laugh, HAHA, and say whatever yo Same shit, different asshole I cry for you [CHORUS] Hey there love Wipe those tears away Hey there love You can if you want to stay You know that I want you want you want you Want you to stay You know that I need you need you need you Need you to stay You know that I want you want you want you Want you to stay You know that I need you need you need you Need you to stay [VERSE 2] Death before dishonor But, but but your honor She too young too die She need a new lawyer Give her proper defense against the offense Humbly appeal unjust death sentence C'mon, give her a chance, one last dance She can reform, she just need a helping hand He who hath no sin, let him begin to cast the first stone (order, order, clemency granted to the . . .) I got a scheme to get her back to fitness M.anifest slim-fast plan Bear witness Teach her history Tidbits to add to the stew Bebop, Grandfather hated like you Jazz your uncle, older cousin rock Æ'n' roll Gospel the reason you got so much soul Africa your true original home So don't forget blackness is all in your bones I miss you CHORUS
