Twist the dials, see I didn't know this could go this loud
I roll my window down and let the air go round
Nothing happened really
No not much at all
But for some reason I, I feel quite tall

We only sat on a couch
Pretty close to be fair
Yeah we did kiss a bit but it ended there
From that leather couch in someone else's house
I take the clarity and leave it out

I hope this was the start
But maybe there's more
Would it mark the start
Please say I havn't taken too long, have I?
To sort my head out
To mark the start of this night

I hope this was the start
That maybe there's more
And that more could start
Please say I havn't taken too long, have I?
To sort my head out
To mark the start of now

Nothing happened at all
But for some reason I, I feel quite tall
We only sat on a couch
Pretty close to be fair
Yeah we did kiss a bit but it ended there
