Just like the weather here in my hometown
She turned on me and then tried to wash me out
She lured me outside sporting a t-shirt
Then battered me with all the wind and rain on earth
And gallantly i try a soldier on
It's only her i'll be fine if i stay strong
She chisels down my gaurd once resolute
With arms around my shoulders to soothe

She was so blunt when she talked to me
She has no grasp for subtley
She was so blunt when she gave up on me
Does this girl know what gently means?

And just as my eyes close to sleep
And now your sharp vibrations stir me and I rise
And I'll block the words of sweeter people (?)
Continue this charade, I try to kill (?)

She was so blunt when she talked to me
She has no grasp for subtley
She was so blunt when she gave up on me
Does this girl know what gently means?
