

Tommy Stinson

"Without a View"

Visit "Without a View" on MotoLyrics.com

Lookin' for a little peace?
Maybe some days you don't need to hear the truth
There's a place for every war and every other tear
A place for everyone and everyone's fears

Do you trust yourself at night?
Do you trust yourself at all?

Take another look outside, do you see it raining?
Or maybe, even worse, maybe, even worse

Not in my house, not in my room
Not in my home, my home without a view
Not in my house, not in my room
Not in my home, my home without a view

I got to take a walk outside, got to hear the traffic
I need a little noise
A murder on the bus, a dealer and his shame
A baby that just wants a different name

Do you ever even think twice?
Do you ever even think at all?

And everybody's talkin' loud and all at once
With a poison in their tongues, a poison in their tongues

But not in my house, not in my room
Not in my home, my home without a view
Not in my house, not in my room
Not in my home, my home without a view

There's gotta be a better view
There's gotta be a better view
There's gotta be a better view
There's gotta be a better view
There's gotta be a better view
There's gotta be a better view

