Oh my mind is made up about you

Now and always

Though the seasons come and they go

Nothing will ever change

Well I took a little chance

And I laid my heart down

I thought you'd be the one

Who would always stick around

I took a little time

Though I knew it would be

That we had a date with destiny

Well out of the darkness

And out of the long black night

You have given me heart, yes

And you showed me the light

And I do, I do

I love you for what you are

Well this heart of mine

I know it so well

There are so many strange stories

That I could tell

Many is a time
I went out on a limb
You reached out for me baby
And you brought me back again
A lot of stormy nights
I've seen many a full moon, but darling
This is love in the afternoon
Well out of the darkness
And out of the long black night
You have given me heart, yes
And you showed me the light
And I do, I do
I love you for what you are
So out of the darkness
And out of the long black night
You have given me heart, yes
And you showed me the light
And I do, I do
I love you for what you are
Yes I love you for what you are
I love you for what you are
I do love you for what you are
Yes I do love you for what you are
