Graduated fool

That is what I am for every time I failed you

'Cos you're so beautiful

I just turned and walked away

I jingle with words

Tangle my tongue, stammering stutters

So I wrote you this song

To finally tell you what you've know all along, I love you

Believe in me

Believe me

It was true devotion

Now these mixed emotions, oh, I did it again

I want you to forgive me

When the pain has faded, yeah, we'll be laughing again

Believe in me

Graduated fool

I'm better than I am, for that is what you made me

Please, hold back your tears

I didn't deserve you anyway, oh no

Believe in me, I still care for you

Believe me, just believe in me

Believe me

When I kiss you face again

All these mixed emotions, ohh, of pleasure and pain

I want you to forgive me when the pain has faded, yeah

We'll be laughing again and again and again

Believe in me, you're so beautiful

Believe me, just believe in me

Believe me
