Don't kill that man, don't kill that man
He could be the one
That brings you gifts for Christmas
Don't kill that man, don't kill that man
He could be the one
For free without the dullness

This could be great
Don't just let go
He might be the one to know

The way you should be loved
A few words are enough
To lighten up your days when shadows fade away,
But I'm not sure he's safe
No, I'm not sure yet
Don't just let go

Don't kill that man, don't kill that man
He could be the one
To trust when you've been lied to
Don't kill him yet, don't kill him yet
He could be the one
You can turn your blind eye to

This is pure gut
Don't just let go
He could be that man who knows

The way you should be loved
A few words are enough
To lighten up your days when shadows fade away,
But I'm not sure he's safe
No, I'm not sure yet
He could be that man who knows
He could be the one
