I'm watching your shadow cut by the moon
Peaceful I wait for the dawn
These moments in silence are all that I need
The softness of hearing you breathe

And I know it doesn't get better than this
Funny it starts with just one little kiss

Baby all I know you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love
All my love is yours, you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love

Your ups and your downs, powers and fears
Your presence fulfils my desire
You're all that I've wished for
You're more than I need, you're right where I wanna be

Oh no, I don't ask questions or try to explain
Telling myself it just happens this way
Baby all I know you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love
All my love is yours, you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love

I don't ask questions or try to explain
Telling myself it just happens this way

Baby all I know you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love
All my love is yours, you're no longer alone

Baby all I know you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love
All my love is yours, you're no longer alone

Baby all I know you're no longer alone
Baby all I know you're no longer alone
We've started a home of our own love
