"Let Me Go"

Home, home is like an open road
You will always find
Whatever you were looking for
And grace always in a hollow place
I will never change and I will always stay my way

But people scattered, loves the matter
I won't let it show

Let me go, let me go away again
Let me change my direction
I won't take that rejection again
Let me go, let me go
I'll find my own way

I never thought I'd change my ways
It was an angry thought
That made me turn the other way
And I want to be like that again
Where I know there's hope
Hope will always find a friend

People scatter, loves the matter
I won't let it show

Let me go, let me go away again
Let me change my direction
I won't take that rejection
Let me go, let me go
I'll find my own way home

Let me go, let me go away again
Let me change my direction
I won't take your rejection
Let me go, let me go
I'll find my own way home

Should stay in mind when you can't change
Love is blind, isn't it strange?
There's another way to change
Yeah all mine would be so strange
And erase the time that you could pass

Never hard enough that you can sway

Let me go
Should stay in mind
Let me go
Let me go

It's a single world but you know the change
[Incomprehensible]
And you would know the time can't change ohh
Let me go
Let me go
Let me go
Let me change my direction
Let me go
Lift my grave, [Incomprehensible], infection
