[Dirt Gritie] As a young buck I grew up tell me if you relate In a school system where there was hardly another race But still I shine I recognized Nine times out of ten it was me they recognized Even if they never saw me commit a crime The color of my skin stands out in the mind So now it is time to decide How I will be perceived and recognized As a thuggy, hustler from the gutty When I can be more then what the world expects of me A leader, a scholar like Frederick D Or inspire generations like Booker T About my heroes nobody told me Used to think being Jamaican is what black means Slang, prison and baggy jeans This is the black media painted me [Oozeela - Chorus - 1X] From the time wi gwan a foreign you know say that my life's about to change From the time we reach the town them all a call me chocolate face You know a so me born and you know say a so me stay But them say Gwan with your chocolate face Oozee gwan with your chocolate face [Arlo Maverick] Black babies that grew in the 80s Weren't privy to the treatment my color see lately Take the bitter with the sweet, and look for balance The innocence of my childhood, corrupt by challenge It should of been about going and playing What should a 5-year-old kid know about racism? Visible minority they made that clear I had a chocolate face and carpet hair Instead of making it seem like were all one race They let you know that you're different from a very young age From the looks you get to the names that you're called Kids could be cruel but is their fault? Where does this come, tell me cousin? Why they making jokes about me being burnt in the oven? Eventually it takes a toll on the minds of children Who hate themselves for being different [Oozeela - Chorus - 1X] From the time wi gwan a foreign you know say that my life's about to change From the time we reach the town them all a call me chocolate face You know a so me born and you know say a so me stay But them say Gwan with your chocolate face Oozee gwan with your chocolate face [S.T.U.G.A] Il a traversÃ© l atlantique des antilles

this is S.T.U.G.A. [Oozeela - Chorus - 1X] From the time wi gwan a foreign you know say that my life's about to change From the time we reach the town them all a call me chocolate face You know a so me born and you know say a so me stay But them say Gwan with your chocolate face Oozee gwan with your chocolate face [Oozeela] Out of all the men on earth she said she wanted to date me But this loving that she gave me was so humiliating She gave me everything that Jah Jah could have created But the forces all around us did it all to prevent it She really, really loved me when she said it she meant it I really, really loved her and the time that we spent But I could never buy the ring for me to take she away 'Cause daddy nah want grandchild with a chocolate face So I said... "Yes I am a Natty Dread but the gals them love me still All sizes and colours "but this is what he said... "Although you might find me weird you're the coolest man I've met But I just cannot say yes go find someone else instead!" But what does it matter if we all bleed red? What does it matter if we all sleep dead? What does it matter if we all are created? What does it matter? [Oozeela - Chorus
- 1X] From the time wi gwan a foreign you know say that my life's about to change The time we reach the town them all a call me chocolate face You know a so me born and you know say a so me stay But them say Gwan with your chocolate face Oozee gwan with your chocolate face
